THE ONLY WAY

Many Barre Citizens Have Discovered It.

Just what to do when the kidneys are affected, is a question that concerns both young and old. Weak kidneys neglected in childhood lead to life-long suffering.
People of advanced years, with less vitality, suffer doubly. In youth or age, languor, backache, urinary irregularity, dizziness and nervousness make life a burden.

There is one remedy that acts directly on the kidneys and cures those troubles.
Doan's Kidney Pills owe their worldwide fame to the fact that they cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently.
Follow the example of this Barre citizen and you will be convinced that this is so.

Mrs. Eliza Mitchell, 42 Maple avenue, Barre, Vt., says: "I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint for some time.
The passages of the kidney secretions were too frequent and I also had terrible pains in my back and hips. I had dizzy spells and any cold I caught, was sure to make the trouble worse. My son had used Doan's Kidney Pills and been so greatly benefited by them that I decided to give them a trial. I got a box at E. A.
Drown's drug store and had taken but a few doses when I experienced relief.
The pains in my back gradually dimished, the kidney secretions became more regular and my general health was improved. I consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to make the value of this remedy known to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents.

CHELSEA

Miss Alice Dickerman went last week to Reintree to visit friends and while there will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Egan Dickerman.

Amos S. Ormsby and wife, who sold their farm last spring to their son, Irving Ormsby, are moving to Vershire lower village, where they have recently purchased a small place of John Daggetta.

John McWilliams, who sold his farm in South Washington last June to Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. White of Boston, Mass., has moved his family to Sharon, where he has obtained employment on a farm for the coming year.

Under the announcements of the probate court in the Randolph district is the notice of the day set for the probing of the last will and testament of John Locke, late of this town, the date being October 1st and at the probate office in Chelsea.

Bennett Morgan and wife, who have lived in Graniteville for the past two years where Mr. Morgan has been working at his trade as a quarryman, have recently returned to their farm in the south part of Washington, and will again take up farming.

Scott Kesterson, whose mother sold her property, real and personal at West Corinth, the 11th inst. preparatory to removing to Washington, D. C., was in town Wednesday, and before Judge Stow, gave his deposition to be used in a case which is pending in county court between El C. Kow and Willie Magon, both of West Corinth.

William Joyal and J. E. Lindsay, a barber and stone cutter respectively of Rutland who came to grief last week in Rutland as the result of a "Joy ride" and who before Justice H. W. Yail of Randolph, were each convicted of an outrage of intoxication and of cruelty to animals also, were each sentenced for the two offenses to 110 days in the county jail, and were committed to the popular hostelry Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff D. B. Howe of Randolph. They were promptly remanded to Montpelier by Sheriff Baldwin and Deputy Adams and lodged in the Washington county jail for safe keeping on account of the present condition of our local jail.

MAKES HAIR GROW

The Red Cross Pharmacy Has an Invicible That Makes Hair Grow in Abundantly or Money Back.

If your hair is thinning out gradually it won't be long before the bald spot appears.

The time to take care of the hair is when you have hair to take care of.
For thin falling hair the best remedy known to mankind is Parian Sage. It is compounded on scientific principles and furnishes to the hair root a nourishment that acts quickly and promptly and causes the hair to grow.

But remember this: It kills the dangerous germ, the pest that appropriates all the natural nourishment that should go to the hair root.
Parian Sage is sold by The Red Cross Pharmacy under a positive guarantee to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It gives to women's hair a lustre and radiance that is most fascinating and causes it to grow abundantly.
Parian Sage is now sold in every first-class town in America. A large, generous bottle costs 50 cents, and the girl with Auburn hair is on every bottle.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"The Call of the North" Coming Next Thursday Evening.

The plot of Mr. Paul Gilmore's new comedy-drama, "The Call of the North," in which he will be seen at the opera house on Thursday evening, has for its center a peculiar form of punishment practiced in the fur trading territory around Hudson bay in bygone years.
This custom was known as "la longue traverse," more intimately understood as the journey of death, by which the old trading company disposed of adventurers who entered the many miles of wilderness which it claimed as its own exclusively. The convicted "free trader" was released of every weapon and sent unarmed into the trackless wilderness to journey six hundred miles to the nearest civilization without arms or ammunition with which to protect himself and procure food, and without supplies to last more than a day or two. His death by exposure, starvation or wild beasts was sure to follow. The hero of "The Call of the North" faces this peril, and his strategies to avoid it form the intensely dramatic incidents of the play, which was written by George Broadhurst, author of "The Man of the Hour," and founded on the popular novel, "Conjuror's House," by Stewart Edward White.

"Graustark" Next Friday Evening.
"Graustark," dramatized from the novel of George Barr McCutcheon, author of "Brewster's Millions," with an excellent company of New York players, and an elaborate production of scenic and electrical effects and picturesque costumes, will be the offering at the opera house on Friday, Sept. 24.

This attraction comes here after being acclaimed in New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, to be the dramatic sensation of the time. In the later city the police were called to clear the street in front of the theatre, so great was the crowd of people trying to buy tickets. The local management, hoping to avoid a case of this kind, will endeavor to have patrons of the theatre secure their seats well in advance.

It would be folly to dwell on the story, for who has not read McCutcheon's book? And when can you find a reader who is not familiar with "Graustark," with its many thrilling incidents, the charm of its love episodes and its vein of exquisite humor. To faithfully reproduce the scenes in and around the principality of "Graustark," a special crew of expert stage mechanics is engaged to manipulate the massive and intricate devices utilized in this realistic masterpiece of stagecraft.

Miss Gertrude Perry as "Princess Yavite" has scored the crowning success of her career, and Mr. William Wagner as "Lorry" gives a portrayal of the adventurous American that is full of dash and spirit. This will undoubtedly prove to be the event of the season and local playgoers are to be congratulated.

William Webb Was Good.

The acting of William Webb was the only strong feature of George Middleton's "House of a Thousand Candles" at the Barre opera house last night, and Mr. Webb alone prevented what would otherwise have been a monotonous evening for a fair-sized audience. His role of butler to an eccentric and rich man, owner of the house of a thousand candles, who wished to know what his heirs would do in case of his death, was admirably done, and Mr. Webb got the well deserved approbation of the audience.

QUEER BURIALS.

Uncouth Methods of the Nomads of Queensland.

Of all the modes of burial ever practiced by creatures in the shape of human beings the method of the Queensland nomads is certainly the most uncouth. After drying the corpse in the sun and knocking out its teeth for keepsakes they deposit it on a framework of rough poles and bury it under a few armfuls of rushes and old kangaroo skins, leaving the bush wolves to sing its requiem.

No member of the dead man's tribe will settle within a mile of his grave for fear of being haunted by the spooks making the burial place their midnight rendezvous. The metaphysical opinions of the Australian aborigines prove indeed that savages can be afflicted with an abundance of supernaturalism without betraying a trace of anything deserving the name of religious sentiment.

They believe in evil spirits whistling in the blasts of the storm wind and try to exorcise them by spitting in the direction of the sky, but for the conceptions of the Deity, of future existence, of repentance, atonement and consequence their language has not even a definite word. From somewhere in the land of their forefathers—eastern Asia perhaps—they have imported a notion faintly resembling the Buddhist doctrine of metempsychosis and believe that animals may be reborn as men and men as human beings of a superior rank.—London Answers.

Not So Bad as It Sounded.

In a downtown cafe two old college friends met by chance. They had not met before in several years and were properly delighted. In the course of conversation one, who had been long absent from town, bethought him of a mutual friend.

"Tell me," said he, "how I can reach Jim. I'd like to lock him up tonight."

"My boy," said the other, "if you want to reach Jim you'll have to telephone to —, an undertaker on Sixth avenue."

"What! You shock me. Jim dead? I — I am sorry indeed to hear it."
"Dead? Who said he was dead. He's a friend of the undertaker and has rooms near by. He has no telephone, but has an arrangement for using the undertakers, as the place is open at all hours. Just telephone the undertaker, and the message will be carried around to Jim."—New York Globe.

Father's Revenge.
"Here is a telegram from papa," says the eloping bride. "He says for us to come right home and live with him and mamma."

"I didn't think he would be so vin-dicative as all that," sighs the eloping bridegroom.—New York Life.

BROUGHT COLOR
TO HER CHEEKS

Then Strength Returned and
This Bloodless Woman
Became Well.

There are many men, women and even children suffering from anemia, which means "too little blood." The disease is well named, for the patient actually has a deficiency of blood which affects every part of the body. There is a lack of energy, a characteristic pal-lor, a sense of suffocating after the least exertion, generally described as a shortness of breath. The disease comes on gradually and is often well advanced before it is recognized.

Too often medical treatment is unsatisfactory and the disease progresses until it becomes hopeless.

A long-standing case, which resisted treatment until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were tried, is described by Mrs. Clinton E. Hale, of No. 104 Bristol avenue, Lockport, N. Y., in the following statement:
"When I was about fourteen years of age I began to fail rapidly in health.
Although I had always been a frail child, I now had to quit school. I was weak and tired out all of the time. In walking fast or going up stairs it seemed that I couldn't walk fast enough to keep up with the heart beats. I had palpitation of the heart and occasional dizzy spells.
I became awfully thin and pale. I had no appetite and suffered with indigestion. I didn't have any life or energy and was sensitive and irritable. I finally became so weak that I could hardly walk."

"The doctors seemed to disagree about my case and their medicine did not help me. My parents were alarmed at my condition and, upon the advice of our minister's wife, had me try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the time I had taken two boxes of the pills I could notice an improvement in my condition.
I could eat better, wasn't so weak and my color came back. I took the pills until entirely cured."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also cured such blood diseases as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fever.
Owing to the intimate relation between the blood and nerves, the pills have been found invaluable in nervous diseases.
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

MONTPELIER.

A party of 20 students from Mont-
day morning and spent the day on Cam-er's Hump.

Miss Carrie Martin, a clerk in the Boston Bargain Store, met with a painful accident yesterday while at work carving a piece of wood for burnt-wood work. The knife slipped and gashed her right arm just above the wrist, severing a vein. Several stitches were taken to close the cut.

The light circuit was thrown out of commission last night by a cross in front of the National Life company's building. The wires were completely burned off at that point, but were soon fixed. When the current was turned on again, however, it was found there was trouble on Bailey avenue. This was soon remedied.

The committee for the joint fair which will be held by Co. H and the Montpelier military band has been appointed and consists of: George F. Felt, Haywood Paine and E. H. Hibbard for the company and Karl Fowle, Fred Collins, and Bernard Marshall for the band. The dates have been set as follows: Nov.
5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. Booths will be put up on one side of the hall only, so as to allow more room for dancing.

As J. F. Barnes of Waterbury was driving from that place to Montpelier yesterday, his tractor Gallium B, was taken suddenly with shaking spasms, and as soon as the harness was taken off dropped dead. Mr. Barnes left Waterbury in a team with his son, while his grandson was driving the tractor in.

TOO HIGH!

Some people have the idea that the cost of Electric Light is too high—that it is expensive.
